WELCOME FROM THE HOST

On behalf of Incheon International Airport Corporation (IIAC), I would like to extend my warmest welcome to all delegates attending the 8th East Asia Airports Alliance (EAAA) Annual Meeting held in Incheon, Korea.

IIAC is very delighted for this opportunity to network with neighbor airports in our region and more importantly to share and learn from each other. Over the past eight years, EAAA members have been working actively together to improve the standards of our service and to find solutions for many common issues among members. I believe we should come even closer to support one another and benefit from being members of this prestigious alliance in this challenging time.

At the 8th EAAA Annual Meeting, with the theme of “EAAA Green Airports, Engines for Green Growth”, we will be exchanging valuable information and best practices on our role in protecting the environment and saving the energy. In particular, some of renowned environment specialists around the world are invited to share with us their knowledge and experiences with all participants this year.

I would like to thank all EAAA members for allowing us to host this exciting event. I sincerely hope you can maximize the opportunities to enhance networks as well as mutual business cooperation in the region.

Autumn is the best season to visit Korea. It is my great wish that you enjoy your stay here in Korea and take home with you the unforgettable memories of Korea and our airport.
